

Jeremy Chenoweth FCIArb

Jeremy Chenoweth is the head of Ashurst' Asia-Pacific Dispute Resolution Practice. He is a leading project development disputes specialist, with extensive experience in mining, oil and gas, power and renewable energy projects across Australia and Asia. He has advised and represented clients in various sectors on 'bet the company' litigation and arbitrations conducted under the ICC, ACICA SIAC, LCIA and UNCITRAL rules, as well as assisting companies develop bespoke alternate dispute resolution strategies.

Jeremy is valued for his strategic input into the management of disputes. Clients single out his expertise in cross-border disputes and arbitration, describing him as a "bright and hardworking" and "in tune with clients' perception and needs" (Legal 500 Asia Pacific 2020).

Jeremy is also a Senior Fellow at the University of Melbourne Law School where he has developed, coordinates and teaches a Masters' program on Major Project Development and dispute resolution.