

Bronwyn Lincoln

Bronwyn is a partner of Corrs Chambers Westgarth with over 20 years' experience advising and representing clients in major international commercial disputes.

She has a particular focus and expertise in joint ventures, shareholder agreements, agency and distribution agreements and service and technology agreements. Her experience spans a range of industry sectors, including mining and resources, infrastructure, telecommunications, pharmaceuticals, property and consumer goods.

Bronwyn is a leading arbitration practitioner and an international arbitrator. She is impanelled with a number of leading arbitral institutions, including SIAC, AIAC and NZIAC, and is a Fellow of ACICA and list arbitrator with HKIAC. Her experience includes ad hoc arbitration and arbitration under UNCITRAL, SIAC, HKIAC, ICDR, LCIA, ACICA and ICC Rules.

In 2016 Bronwyn was appointed by the Federal Attorney General as one of Australia's four designated ICSID conciliators. Amongst other roles, she is a director of the Australian Disputes Centre and ACICA and a member of the ICC Commission on Arbitration and ADR.