

Kim Rooney

Kim Rooney is an international arbitrator and Hong Kong barrister. She sits as arbitrator in international arbitrations of commercial, finance, joint venture, high technology, energy and resources disputes, under various rules including ACICA, HKIAC, ICC, ICDR/AAA, JCCA, LCIA (India), SIAC and UNCITRAL. Previously a partner of White & Case LLP, heading its Asian international dispute resolution practice, Kim is admitted as an English solicitor and a Western Australian barrister and solicitor.

Kim is a member of the ICC's International Court of Arbitration, the IBA's "Dispute Resolution International" editor, eBRAM International Online Dispute Resolution Centre director, and the Hong Kong Bar Association's Arbitration Committee chair. She chaired the Hong Kong Law Reform Commission's Subcommittee on Third Party Funding for Arbitration; its 2016 Final Report's recommendations (with draft legislation) to clearly allow and to regulate Hong Kong third party funding of arbitration were implemented by 2017 amendments to the Arbitration Ordinance (Cap 609).
