

NAVIGATING GLOBAL SUPPLY CHAIN DISRUPTIONS: ARBITRATION ESSENTIALS TO SAFEGUARD PROJECTS

The Folds by Zhang Xin

In today's interconnected world, global supply chain disruptions (often triggered by overseas conflicts), impact Australian businesses and projects, leading to delays and disputes that may give rise to arbitration.

Using real examples and recent trends, we'll explore when and how arbitration is relevant in such scenarios, offering practical insights. This is particularly crucial for upcoming major construction and infrastructure projects, including the Brisbane Olympics. Attendees will gain tools to confidently manage disputes, covering legal, commercial, and strategic aspects, enabling proactive resolution.

Join for a timely discussion essential for safeguarding organisational interests in today's unpredictable global landscape.
