AFIA Symposium

The Explosion of International Arbitration: is Australia well placed to take advantage of this big bang?

Join us for an enlightening presentation that delves into the burgeoning realm of international arbitration and Australia's strategic position within this dynamic landscape.

International arbitration has witnessed unprecedented growth, emerging as a preferred mechanism for resolving cross-border commercial disputes. This surge has been likened to a 'big bang', expanding the horizons for legal practitioners, businesses, and nations alike.

Australia's legal and regulatory framework, coupled with its geographical positioning and economic stability, presents a unique opportunity to become a hub for international arbitration. But the question remains: Is Australia ready to harness the potential of this global trend?

Join us for a panel discussion with industry leaders who will take questions from the audience.
