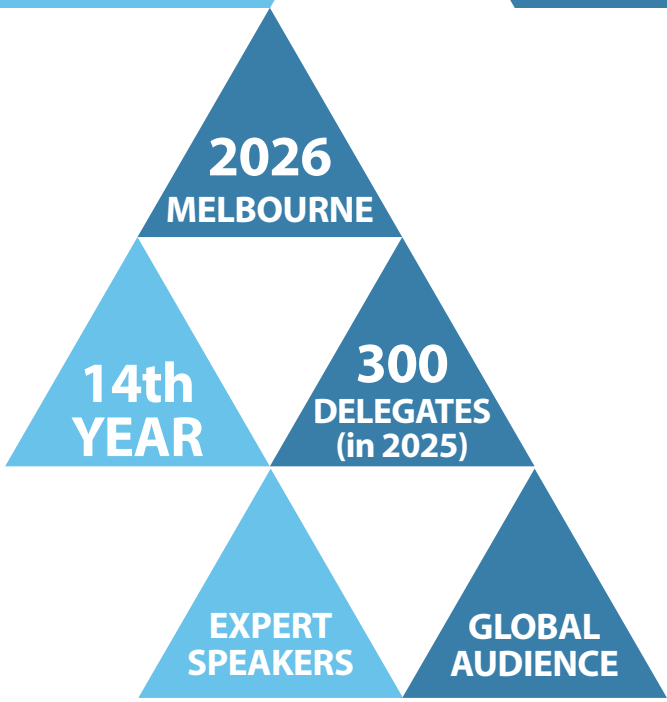
AUSTRALIAN ARBITRATION WEEK 2026



ABOUT AUSTRALIAN ARBITRATION WEEK

Organised by ACICA, Australian Arbitration Week (AAW) is a week of high-quality, dynamic and diverse panel discussions, including panel discussions and events dedicated to young arbitration practitioners. The week also includes a wide variety of social events that enable attendees to connect and reconnect with friends and colleagues while experiencing the genuine, warm hospitality for which Australia is known.

Participating organisations hosted over 60 events during AAW 2025, including ACICA's own wellbeing programme and the inaugural AAW edition of Law Rocks!

The calendar for the AAW 2025 can be viewed here and reports from a number of the events held during AAW 2025 are available on the AAW Blog.

ABOUT THE INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION CONFERENCE

Now in its 14th year, ACICA continues its longstanding global partnership with Ciarb Australia in delivering the International Arbitration Conference (IA Conference). The lead event of Australian Arbitration Week (AAW), the Conference is held annually on a rotating basis between Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane and Perth, and is Australia's preeminent arbitration conference, bringing together local experts and eminent speakers from around the world to discuss current and emerging issues in international arbitration.

The 2025 IA Conference included speakers from Belgium, France, Switzerland, India, Singapore, Hong Kong, the United Kingdom and the United States of America. Issues discussed included resolving disputes in disrupted supply chains, multi-party/multi-contract issues, arbitrating in new fields and preserving integrity and efficiency when arbitration participants go silent.

Over 300 delegates attended the IA Conference last year, including international law firm partners specialising in arbitration, internationally recognised and emerging arbitrators, barristers, members of the judiciary and general counsel from global organisations.

Delegates travelled from all over the world, including Austria, Belgium, France, Hong Kong, Japan, Malaysia, Papua New Guinea, Singapore, Switzerland, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom, the United States of America as well as from all over Australia.

The programme for the 2025 IA Conference can be viewed here and a report from the 2025 IA Conference is available on the AAW Blog. A summary of the IA Conference was also published on the ACICA website.
